

PATIENT & CAREGIVER EDUCATION

Coping with Memory Deficits (RLAC)

Memory and other cognitive changes affect many older adults during and after their cancer treatment. This lecture will characterize those changes and explore insights gained from research in this field.

Audience

This program is open to the community.